Music Concert

'The world's most famous and popular language is music'.

Psy

One of the greatest subjects to learn and teach English is music. It's always welcomed by both students and teachers. That's why our students learned and practised target language through a project where they had to plan and design a music festival.

Getting knowledge Through skills

Our learners did reading, listening and speaking exercises to get familiarised with the suitable language for planning a music festival. After that, they rehearsed the target words and phrases through use of English exercises.
